Welcome spring on your balcony

Large pots

This is a pot for both indoor and outdoor use perfect for your larger plants. The pot is made of PP-C material with sun protection so that the colours are preserved over time. The pot can be bought with a selfwatering insert to give a large water reservoir from which the plant can last for a long time. For outdoor use an opening can be made in a cone in the bottom to provide over-flow of water when water reservoir is full. The pot can be used outdoor during winter.

Window size pots

The Lively window sized series gives life and hope to your window plant and is widely used among enthusiasts for its excellent results. The pots has a simple design with a watering magazine in the bottom and a water level indicator that shows how much water is left. The water is distributed to the plant through a capillary matting that enables constant moisture which means that it feeds the plant with more water during sunny days then cloudy and cold days. This helps you to avoid any over watering.
